THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Washington's nose was two and five-eighths inches long.

There is one drinking saloon to every forty inhabitants in Hamilton, Ohio.

A man starved to death in the streets of Jersey City a few days since.

Colored detectives are now employed in Richmond, by appointment of the military to aid police.

Sylvanus Cobb has written more than fifty miles of stories for the New York Ledger, and is still at it.

B. H. Hill has been elected to the law professorship in the University of Georgia, succeeding the late Judge Lumpkin.

Ben. DeBar, of St. Louis, offers to back Mike McCoole for five thousand dollars, to fight Joe Coburn, or any other man in America.

It is reported that General Hancock has been granted thirty days' delay going to New Orleans on account of the prevalence of yellow fever.

Jim Barker, somewhat inebriated, whom Deputy Sheriff Paul Fuller was endeavoring to arrest, last Monday, at Hopkinsville, Kentucky, shot and killed Fuller.

The New York gamblers have called the association they have formed, to thwart the efforts of the Gambling Prevention Society, "The Industrial Social Union."

General Hovey, United States Minister to Peru, has gone to Chili, it is supposed on a mission of peace between Spain and the South American republics.

A lady at Saratoga, having decided to return by the middle of September, has begun to send her luggage in instalments. She will accompany the last car load herself.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "The chap who found another man's clothes in his house one night, with $700 in the pockets, had the wit to keep the money and keep quiet."

Although it is more than five years since the death of Prince Albert, the mourning seal in black wax continues to be affixed to all the official letters of the English Government in its several departments.

The most fashionable dance now in vogue in England is the cotillion. This old dance revived has created a perfect furore in the fashionable world, the Prince of Wales having set the example in liking and dancing it.

A negro woman at Nashville, the other day, made affidavit before Cassity that she had been delivered of a child whose father is John Rhum, editor of the Staats Zeitung, a German Radical paper published in that city.

A difficulty occurred in Nashville, last Tuesday, in a drinking saloon, between the proprietor, Cochrane, and a man named Currin. The latter received a cut in the abdomen, disemboweling him, and will prove fatal. Whisky was the cause.

The Gambler's Protective Society of New York has collected, in two weeks, a fund of thirty thousand dollars, with which to fight the Anti-Gambling Association.

Peruvian ladies are noted for their exquisitely small feet, and got them by having the little toe amputated in infancy. A Peruvian surgeon skilled in the business is going to San Francisco to open an office.

The Republicans of Maryland have decided not to vote on the new Constitution, which is to be submitted to the people on the the 18th, and have prepared an address to Congress, in which they state that said Constitution is not Republican in form.

A young man named Regan died in Albany recently, from having a mole or wart cut on his face while being shaved. The wart was on the left cheek, and, while the whole right side was paralyzed, the left leg and arm became rigid, and the face turned over the left shoulder.

An old lease of a private billiard room in San Francisco, for a year for $500 a month, is preserved and valued principally because two of the lessees were Captain Ulysses S. Grant and Thomas H. Stevens—the latter now a naval Commodore.

McCoole and Jones have become exceedingly friendly since the fight. Mike visits Aaron, takes up collections for him, and has engaged him to go around in company with himself to illustrate the "manly art" in harmless exhibitions. Aaron owns up that he was badly whipped and couldn't help it. Happy family.

Great apprehension exists in Baltimore in regard to the celebration of the battle of North Point on the 8th. It is feared a collision will occur between the State militia, which is said to be composed mainly of returned soldiers, who have organized several independent regiments and will take part in the celebration.

General Binckly, assistant Attorney General, is preparing a detailed resume of the official acts of General Sickles in relation to General Order No. 10, for which he was removed from command. The correspondence between Generals Sickles and Grant and President Johnson on the subject, will not, however, be published at present.

The First National Bank at Washington has withdrawn its advertisement for the purchase of Confederate bonds, which, it says, was put out at the instance of parties in Europe. The only offer of the bonds for sale came from New York city. The bankers proposed two dollars and a half for every thousand.

The German governments are about taking serious steps for the radical suppression of dueling among the students of the universities. Seventeen promising young men were killed in these university duels in 1866. Most of these duels were brought about by trifling causes.

Much complaint is made by newspaper men in St. Louis, against the Telegraph Company, for non-delivery of special dispatches on Saturday, containing particulars of the prize fight, entailing serious loss. It is hinted that suits for damages will be instituted.

The St. Louis Republican pronounces Belle Boyd's Juliet a perfect failure, and says that she made a mistake in regard to her talents when she adopted the stage. Belle is playing at DeBar's theater. She is to appear in Memphis some time during the coming season.

Belle Boyd, of Virginia, known as a dashing rebel spy during the late war, made her first appearance on the American stage Monday evening at DeBar's Opera House, St. Louis, in the character of Pauline in the "Lady of Lyons." There was a good attendance, but the audience was not favorably impressed.

The Chattanooga Union, of the 3d, says: "We undestand that the railroad bridge at Bridgeport is again out of order, and is considered unsafe. It was the understanding that the train which left last night at 7:50 p.m., would not be able to cross it, but that the passengers would have to be transferred."

The St. Louis Times of last Sunday has a paragraph stating that two celebrated German doctors of that city were about to fight a duel. The reporter advised the belligerents that if they wished to settle each other's hash, the most expeditious way would be to take each other's medicine. The Teutonic Esculaplans were so tickled at the reporter's advice that they buried the hatchet at once, and had a hearty laugh over a bottle of wine.

William Flynn, formerly Navy Agent under Buchanan, and a delegate to the Philadelphia Convention, was appointed by the President a few days since to the superintendency of a military depot. General Grant has revoked the order, on the ground that the law provided for the detailing of military officers for such duty.

A Washington dispatch of the 3d says: "Secretary Seward departed from his usual reticence today, and contradicted the Tribune story that he is endeavoring to settle the Alabama claims by securing the cession of British territory on the Pacific coast."

The New York journals of Saturday are full of details of the crime, conviction, confession and execution of Bridget Durgan, who murdered Mrs. Coriell, wife of Dr. Wm. W. Coriell, in Newmarket, New Jersey, in February last. The criminal stated that she committed the deed because she loved her victim's husband.

Hon. John L. Helm, was inaugurated Governor of Kentucky last Tuesday. The ceremony, on account of Governor Helm's ill health, took place at Elizabethtown. Governor Bramlette delivered his retiring address, and Governor Helm's inaugural was read,

It is stated, and generally believed, in Washington, that the Committee appointed some time since to examine the accounts of the different Bureaus of the Treasury, have discovered evidence in the office of the Controller of the Currency of a defalcation on the part of one of the clerks, amounting to several thousand dollars. The investigation has not been concluded, and the suspected party not having been arrested, the particulars are not yet developed.

LETTER FROM COUSIN NOURMA.

Visit to the Author of "The Conquered Banner"—Lookout Mountain—Its Scenery, Visitors, Etc.

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN HOUSE,
September 2, 1867.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: Yesterday it was my especial good fortune to meet with Father Ryan (Moina) in Chattanooga. The fame of the good priest, his authorship of "The Conquered Banner," and my anxiety to visit the beautiful little chapel in which he officiated, combined to induce me to attend Catholic services. I found the chapel filled with a most devout and attentive congregation, and was agreeably surprised to find mass conducted with all the ceremonies provided by the church, and with as much care and effect as we see in large cities. Father Ryan then delivered an eloquent sermon, the beautiful sentences and precepts of which were listened to with the most profound attention by his hearers. He prefaced his sermon by some remarks on a notice he announced concerning the opening of a parish school, the philosophy of which is well worthy of the attention of our people. Referring to the free school system of the North, he stated that some late investigations into the uses and abuses of the free school system in Buffalo, for example, furnished an exhibit of practices of bestiality and other horrible crimes, that are not only frightfully criminal, but also too common to bear publication. Holding the free school system in utter abomination, the Church demands of its people the support of its own schools, and that the children of Catholic parents shall be educated in them. He stated that the teachings of free schools are obnoxious, not only in a sectarian view, but also in their political heresies and abominations; that the taxation which is levied on one man to pay for the education of other people's children is unjust, and nothing less than theft. The Church submits to the decree of the law, but abhors its injustice. His scalding words are the truthful utterances of a brave man, and I hope they may echo in the hearts of our people until those manufactories of crime and politics—free schools—may be eradicated from the land. In them are found only Radical text books, full of insulting references to our dead, and cowardly denunciations of our suffering people. Children are taught in Radical text books that the traditions of the war are only histories of crimes, that their parents are pronounced guilty of. In them Puritanism is the interpretation of morality and religion. As Puritanism is cowardice, crime, and the embodiment of all that is bigoted and detested, we pray for our release from its accursed taint and touch, and declare it to be our duty to avoid its influences, and especially to protect Southern children from its insinuating and poisonous doctrines, which destroy the social, religious and political fabric of every nation on which its blighting touch falls.

Father Ryan is a man of about thirty years of age, five feet seven inches in hight, is spare made, of fragile form and appearance; his shoulders are slightly stooped and indicate a habit of leaning over books. His movements are rather quick, but indicate much firmness and decision. His easy manner exhibits a perfect confidence and strength of character. When he appears before his people, the most listless observer arouses to a sense that an extraordinary man is before him. His impressive appearance consists of a beautiful expression of countenance, that is not dependent on outline for its cause, but rather on the intellectual light that shines from his eyes and radiates over his countenance. His face is long and beardless; his hair is brown, and worn cast back from his high, broad forehead, and hangs in slight and graceful curls over his shoulders; his eyes are a soft blue, mild in repose, and glow beautifully when he is aroused or eloquent; his brows are high and regularly arched. The eyes often droop, and seem to fall with a violet light radiating from them. His mouth has a slight curvature at the corners, is small and of pleasing appearance; his lips are mobile, and carry on their well moulded surfaces a constantly varying smile, that has much of that compassion that beams kindly from his eyes and face. His angular cheek bones are scarcely noticeable in a front view. His general appearance, as he stands in the chancel, is very feminine, yet giving the impression that he is an intellectual and poetical person of noble and good qualities. His manners, and especially his distinct tenor tones, indicate an unusually powerful and impressive voice. His utterances often reach a high key, but they are musically modulated and very pleasing to the ear. His thrilling sentences flow rhythmically like poetry, and are not only exquisitely pleasing, but convincing in every respect. Short torrents of eloquent words flow from him easily and without labor. No unkindly references ever grate on the hearing of his varied listeners. Kindly and saintly he is the beadsman of the Church; firmly he asks for faith from his hearers, and, without bigotry, he demands devotion and christian practices from its members. His teachings carry conviction on their face, and wield an incalculable influence on his hearers. He hopes to visit Memphis during the autumn. What a welcome he will receive there. I assured him that his name would bring clustering about him many persons of all sects, who will tell him with their eyes and kindly greetings that he is enshrined in their hearts, and will be loved forever with the memories of the Lost Cause, whose trials and sorrows he has interpreted in the poetical folds of "The Conquered Banner." That his presence in Memphis will be of service to the Church and an extraordinary pleasure to the people, should be sufficient cause for the Bishop to send him on a mission thither, and we hope soon to see him there.

To those who are curious concerning his pseudonym, "Moina," it is only necessary to state that it is one of Ossian's weird conceptions, and was assumed by Father Ryan because of sacred memories, the tenor of which may be learned from Ossian's description of the character.

I have found the Lookout Mountain House one of the most delightful resorts to which my good fortune has led me during my summer tour. There are several Memphis people here. During the week the names of C. C. Clark, W. H. Hardin, W. H. Brown, E. A. Megiveney, J. B. Carnes and Mrs. Hamlin have been registered. Captain Harvey Mathes, of the Louisville Courier, is enjoying the inspiring delights of the resort at present. The mountain is very airy and pleasant. The days are breesy and free from heat, and the nights are deliciously cool. A number of New Orleans people have been sojourning on the mountain for several weeks past, and will remain during the balance of the season. There continues to be sufficient gaiety to keep up the pleasures of the ball room nightly. The ground everything here abouts very delightful and attractive. The proprietors, Messrs. Cooper and James, are making extensive preparations for the large number of visitors who are coming this month. President Johnson expects to be here about the twelfth or fifteenth. From the large number of parties who have announced their intention of coming, we anticipate a glorious reunion with many old friends from every section of the South. Every convenience that can be secured to make the excursionists enjoy their trip, is being prepared for their use, and it is evident that the occasion will prove one of the most delightful pleasure trips of the season. The resorts and points of interest on the mountain and vicinity, have been made very accessible lately, and will well repay the prospective visit. I hope that the excursion will prove a splendid success in every respect. Send along a big representation from the Bluff City.

The Recent State Election in California.

Latest Mexican and European News.

Abolition of Corporeal Punishment in the Prussian Army.

Reform Measures Adopted in Russia.

WASHINGTON, September 5.—The forthcoming proclamation of amnesty, which was first anticipated last Saturday, was again under consideration by the Administration. The President is urged to make the amnesty universal in its character, but he at present has not positively decided to do so, though it is probable he will yield. Among the classes that it has been decided so far to pardon are the following: First, all who are or have been pretended civil or diplomatic officers or otherwise, domestic or foreign agents of the pretended Confederate Government; second, all persons who have been absentees from the United States for the purpose of aiding the rebellion; fourth, all persons who held the office of Governor of States while these latter were in insurrection; fifth, all persons who have taken the oath of amnesty prescribed in the proclamation of December, 1865; sixth, all persons who left their homes within the jurisdiction of the United States and passed beyond the federal lines into the rebellion for the purpose of aiding it; seventh, all who left seats in Congress to aid the rebellion; eighth, all who have been military or naval officers of the rebel government, below the rank of Lieutenant General. There is such a variance of opinion in the cabinet that some of these classes may not be eventually enumerated, while the President may also decide to grant universal amnesty and include Jefferson Davis, Lee and Beauregard.

NEW YORK, September 5.—Mexican advices state that the Prussian minister has been very sick at San Luis, but would leave soon for home.

Washington correspondents now assert the relations between the President and Grant are not of any amicable nature, and probably the latter will soon be relieved from the War Department duties. Steadman is talked of as his successor.

INDIANAPOLIS, September 5.—Forty singing societies are present to attend the sangerfest. Chicago has been selected as the place for the next annual festival. Rehearsal commenced Yesterday morning, under the direction of Carl Bork, of Cincinnati. Over nine hundred singers and musicians were present. The concert last night was a grand affair and largely attended.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 4.—No indication has been received of the result of the election in the State to-day. It is certain, however, that the Democratic vote will be larger than for years past.

NEW YORK, September 5, 12:45 p.m.—Gold opened at 142½, and is now 142¾. Cotton quiet but steady; prices unchanged.

LIVERPOOL, September 5, 11 a.m.—Cotton active; uplands, 10½d; Orleans, 10¾d; sales, 10,000 bales; Five-twenties, 73⅝; Consols, 94.

LONDON, September 4.—Latest advices state that a new Austrian loan is talked of. It is stated that Rothschild is willing to negotiate for raising forty or fifty millions of florins by means of a credit operation.

Corporeal punishment in the Prussian army has been abolished for soldiers of the second class.

The official Vienna journal says the result of the interview of the two Emperors will in no way lead to an aggressive policy.

The Czar has granted an unlimited leave of absence to all soldiers who have served fifteen years, and temporary furloughs to those who have served ten years.

The Russian Imperial ukase is published suppressing military jurisdiction over civilians. It excepts cases of public disturbances.

A Good Investment.

AS administrator of the estate of J. M. Lyles, deceased, I wish to dispose of either a half or an entire interest as sole lessee of the Mississippi State Penitentiary. My brother's lease continues for thirteen years, under an act of the Legislature of the State. My object in offering to sell this lease, either in whole or in part, is to relieve myself of the responsibility of the management of the business, which must, of course, center at Jackson, the State Capital, and to be properly controlled would require my immediate and constant supervision. I am a merchant, have a family, and am permanently located at Oxford, Miss., and am otherwise so situated that I cannot give the immense interest growing out of the lease that attention which it deserves. There are at this time about two hundred convicts in the Penitentiary. For particulars address me at Oxford, Miss.

Our Southern Widows and Orphans

IT is the duty of every true Southern person to cast in a mite to the support of those who have been left in a dependent condition by the loss of a dear husband or an affectionate father, who laid down their lives in the defense of our once glorious but now lost Cause.

And being impressed with a sense of this duty, I have determined to set apart, say one-fourth, of my net income for that purpose; and as my business is the publication and sale of the first classed Southern Literature, for which I have exclusive control of the works of Parkman and Tourneur, and also the societies of Washington, Holmes, Ataia, Wirt on and Noxubee, and all counties north of the same in the state of Mississippi, I feel assured that the good people of said section are willing and will assist me in my efforts and to the end I wish a gentleman or lady in every civil district, within the above territory, who feels an interest in the needy, and who will give a few weeks time, energy and influence to the business, to canvass their respective districts for our standard Southern Historical Works. For such services we will allow a liberal commission on sales.

We wish the very best of citizens, and those who can and will take an active interest in our enterprise, to whom we refer to the following names, should they desire to make inquiries.

FRIDAY, : : : : : : : SEPTEMBER 6, 1867

HISTORY has immortalized the courageous Athenian who pursued the flying Persians, after the battle of Marathon. This pugnacious hero seized one of the retreating ships with his right hand which was immediately chopped off by the enemy. He then grasped the vessel with his left hand, which was also severed from his body, when he immediately laid hold with his teeth. STANTON, the late Secretary of War, has shown the same sort of tenacity in holding on to office. When well bred turtles get a bill hold it is said they invariably let loose when it thunders. But STANTON scorns all such politeness. When the President chopped off his right hand he seized the War Department with his left hand; that being severed he laid hold with his teeth and would have been hanging on to the President until now but for the timely interposition of General GRANT, who with one blow from his broadax chopped off the head of the pertenacious office holder. Since that sad event the Radicals have wept huge fountains of tears over the slaughtered STANTON. The demand for his defunct carcass is as great as that for the body of MAXIMILIAN. Public meetings are being held for the purpose of passing the usual resolutions of condolence on funeral occasions. The Philadelphia Press—edited by the infamous FORNEY, who conspired with a drunken actor to rob a woman of her all, her character—is still sorely troubled about the decapitation of STANTON. As Mr. WELLER would say, the editor "weeps whole pints of tears and wipes 'em on his sleeve." When HEPHESTION died, ALEXANDER the Great wept and fasted for three days. He hung the physician that attended him, cut off his own hair, and drove the funeral hearse to the grave, and did many other frantic and foolish things. But ALEXANDER'S grief was an inconsiderable outpouring in comparison with that of the Philadelphia editor over the body of STANTON. Of course, he has shaved his head and looks both like a fool and a penitentiary convict. This demonstration over a creature so corrupt and vile as the late Secretary of War, shows the degeneracy of the times. In the purer and better days of the Republic, the honest men of all parties would have scorned the idea of defending a man who, as a member of the Cabinet, acted as an informer and spy over the acts of the President. STANTON'S whole career has been one of cruelty, tyranny, treachery and dishonesty. The glory claimed for him is built upon his own shame. His conduct is enough to cause the cheeks of every American to tingle and blush. There is still more work for the President to do. One stroke of the scrub-broom is not sufficient to cleanse the Augean stable. The President is retaining in power a viper who, for two years, has been insidiously instilling the poisonous virus of his nature into the heart of the Administration. We allude to that magnificent and redemptionless villian, Jo. HOLT. God Almighty, in his infinite mercy and inscrutable ways, has long permitted the scoundrel to pollute his footstool, whether from a desire to keep another devil out of hell, or to serve as a warning to the good and virtuous, we are unable to say. HOLT presides over the misnomer called the Military Bureau of Justice. The idea of justice being administered by a living, breathing encyclopedia of villainy is a profanation too revolting for contemplation. If HOLT were not a beast, totally devoid of the purer and nobler sensibilities of the race he degrades, the ghost of Mrs. SURRATT would haunt his guilty soul for evermore. The hanging of this innocent woman will remain a foul and fadeless blur upon the American escutcheon. It will render the name of HOLT synonymous with infamy, and if he were not a monster, remorse and the tortures of his seared conscience would be sufficiently poignant to force him, like JUDAS, to hang himself. The name of HOLT is a millstone around the neck of the President. He is a bold, bad, cunning man, full of intrigues, arts and appliances. Destitute of integrity of purpose and character; neither honest nor capable; utterly unprincipled and corrupt; powerless for the accomplishment of any good purpose for any party—he has been persistently retained in office, to the great disgust of the American people. He has no more sympathy with the masses than an iceburg has with the ardor of the tropics. Cold, isolated and repulsive to the approach of an equal companionship and an agreeable intercourse, he stoops only to court the incense of popular applause. He has an inflexible rigidity of manner. Exclusive and repulsive, he stands aloof from the contamination of humanity. He hates mankind, and mankind most cordially reciprocates the affliction; for we presume HOLT has not a friend upon earth. We hope the same bloody guillotine which came down upon the neck of STANTON like a huge mash trap, will soon be turned loose upon the head of Jo. HOLT.

A NEW means of annoying ex-Confederate soldiers has been devised, by the operation of which the simplest offence against an insolent and unruly negro, or against the capricious and untenable ideas of the present status of the Southern people, entertained by some army officers and soldiers, is construed into "a violation of parole," the supposed offender is hurried out of the reach of civil jurisdiction and confined in a military prison, to await his trial by a military commission. This is not only the case as to parties residing in the military districts, or unrepresented States, but also as to those former soldiers of the Confederacy, citizens of States, recognized as in the Union. Tennessee is in the Union, she has been so recognised by a formal act of readmission passed by the Congress of the United States. Her Senators and Representatives are recognised as the peers of other Senators and Representatives in Congress. One of her citizens is the President of the United States. And yet, at LaGrange, in this State, a young man, who has as yet barely attained his majority, is seized from his home, upon a charge upon which he had been fined by a civil magistrate, and which he discharged and was released, and hurried off out of the jurisdiction of the State by an armed guard of the Army of the United States, and is confined in the barracks at Louisville to await a trial for "violating his parole" by a military court, a tribunal recently decided by the Supreme Court to have no jurisdiction in times of peace in States of the Union, and entirely unknown to the laws of the land. We know the young man who is the subject of this violent arrest and terrible confinement. He was in the same command that we were during the war. Though a mere youth, he was a faithful, serviceable and gallant soldier, of excellent morals, good education and creditable manners. His father was a Chaplain in the army, of great service in promoting the religious sentiment of the men, and is now an esteemed minister at Lagrange. We appeal to President JOHNSON to take especial cognizance of this case, and release young MILLIKEN from the arbitrary confinement to which he is subjected. The provocation for what little he is charged with doing was very great, and the best citizens of the town communicated, some time since, the facts to the AVALANCHE, which proved him to be free of all blame. He was tried before the Mayor and fined, and is now to be put upon his trial the second time for the same offense, before a tribunal alien to the Constitution and the law. A similar case is now pending in Marshall county, Mississippi, of which we expect to hear the result in time to lay it before our readers in the next issue of the AVALANCHE. If this new crime of "violation of parole" is to be used as the pretext for such proceedings in the future, we trust that the Government at Washington will give the people a well defined idea of the "parole code," so that they may be particular and so conform themselves as not to risk military arrest, imprisonment and trial.

The Louisville Courier of the 5th says: "After the reaction produced by the exciting scenes of Tuesday, Governor Helm's condition became much worse, and it was thought he would not live through that night. During the morning of yesterday, however, he very sensibly improved, and his physicians were led to entertain strong hopes that he would yet master the stubborn disease which prostrates him, and thus far has defied the best medical skill."

THESE different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of chemistry and therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their success sufficiently indicates their position in circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those common, modified or advertised. In the public papers in order to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an official examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been revered officially, either in the practice of the first medical men, are authorized by the government. In particular, and do not let them palm off any other medicine upon you. We respectfully refer you to the long advertisement in another column.

A GENTLE WHISPER TO MOTHERS.—If unfortunately you have lost your own teeth by neglect or mismanagement, take care that your daughters do not suffer the same penalty from the same cause. See to it that they brush their teeth regularly and thoroughly with Sozodont, and thereby you will insure them sound and serviceable sets as long as they live. 1w

The Searcy Record is the paper of our friend Jacob Froich, who remains in the city until the Saturday packet returns him home. Our merchants who would be informed of the people of White county, one of the finest in the State, should become acquainted with Mr. Froich at once. Advertisements in the Record will be sure to strike the right place.

A MEMPHIS ARTIST RETURNED.—The man who stands first in the ranks of any profession is worthy of respect, and like the man whose labors promote physical health, grace and happiness is more worthy of public esteem than the man who improves the mental powers, since intelligence is a drug in the community, while social comfort and human progress depend upon health, beauty and happiness. This will explain the gratification we feel in announcing the return to our city of Mr. H. C. Lippard, a gentleman favorably known to this community before the war. Mr. Lippard stands prominent among Terpsichorean artists. His training, in days "long ago," aided to develop many a graceful lady and courtly gentleman in our midst, and his former friends and pupils should rally to meet him with a "friendly, free and ample welcome."

Receipts by the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, September 6.

Ferguson, Cordes & Co, 1 lot mdse; M and C R R, 1 lot iron; Clark, Ely & Co, 10 bbls sugar and 1 chest; Avery & Eggers, 15 bags coffee; Jacob Farber, 2 sacks rye; J W Jones, 1 box saundries; Williamson, Hill & Co, 18 bales cotton; J M Park, 1 do; G V Margerum, 4 cars stone; Ransom & Co, 1 car lime; Thos Teague & Co, 1 car lumber; Doyle & Wiley, 1 car lumber; Schreiber & Co, 1 lot dry hides.

AVALANCHE GRATUITOUSLY CIRCULATED.—The rascality of McEwen, the news agent on the Central Mississippi railroad, and the backing he receives from General West, the superintendent, have virtually placed an embargo on the circulation of the AVALANCHE upon that road, and hundreds of residents along and travelers on it, who desire to read regularly a paper that knows true from southern interests, find it difficult to get the AVALANCHE. The McEwen and West embargo compels them to buy some other paper if they buy any. Under these circumstances we inform our friends in Mississippi that until that embargo is removed we will send gratuitously a number of copies of the AVALANCHE to every station on the Mississippi Central railroad. We can at least in this way expose rascality or connivance, and keep our friends posted in relation to public matters.

UNITED STATES COURT.—On yesterday a few judgments were taken by default. No business of importance was transacted. Captain J. W. Griffiths was qualified as Deputy United State Marshal. At an early hour court adjourned over until to-day.

REAL ESTATE IMPROVEMENTS.—Among the many real estate brokers in our city, none rank higher in ability than Messrs. Kinney & Porter, 20, 5, 6 & 8 Williams' block. Thoroughly conversant with all the details of their business, they conduct it with such tact and courtesy, and are so honorable in all their dealings, as to deserve a large share of patronage. We can conscientiously recommend them. Now that real estate is depressed, is the time for those who wish to make fortunes to buy; and if they buy, Kinney & Porter are real estate brokers who may be safely confided in.

WEATHERBEE'S.—The most popular and quiet resort in the city has been uniformly conceded to the neat little back apartments of Harry Weatherbee. The many friends he has endeared to him will be gratified to learn that he has determined to extend his possessions into "Dixie's Land." The able conjointure Mr. Weatherbee has had in the persons of Messrs. Jerry Riordan and Ed. Webber, will continue to watch over the old ranche, and Mr. Van Winkle will open the festivities at the new place. These are all gentlemen of the very best qualifications, and the business of the theatre will lose nothing by having Harry Weatherbee, the old friend and companion of the actor, so closely connected with it. It must be a mutual advantage. We will give the best criticism on the best play presented, which will require an amount of labor not often bestowed, if Weatherbee's reinstatement of "Shakspeare" do not prove the most popular move of the season. The first bow will be made on the 23d of September, instant, when spiritual manifestations may be anticipated.

WORTH MAKES THE MAN.—Planters living remote from cities, and seeing more of nature than of men, often attain great proficiency in reading character. They seem to have a warning instinct, that leads them in their intercourse with merchants to select as their agents men of sterling integrity—sharp, keen, but honest and just in their business relations. This applies particularly to the cotton and commission house of W. L. Stewart, No. 2 Bank alley, near Madison street His country friends know him to be a most excellent business man—pushing and energetic, but square and gentlemanly—and they know that in his hands they may leave their affairs with perfect safety.

A RELIABLE COTTON FIRM.—Messrs. Verser & Hatchett, cotton factors and commission merchants, No. 22 Front street, do business in a manner especially worthy of commendation. Their business goes on with the utmost regularity and dispatch, and the result is generally very gratifying to themselves and their patrons. They know how to run the machine and come in ahead of their competitors. This sterling firm constructs favorably with the best houses in this city or elsewhere, and we advise planters and others in need of their services to give them a call.

BUSINESS CHARACTER.—Where a business firm in a large city has distinguished itself by its strict attention to business and the interests of its employes, it acquires an influence that is widely felt and acknowledged. It becomes a star in the business horizon, and other firms seek to emulate its good name. Of such houses that of White, Kerr & Reeves, 289 Main street, is a good specimen. This firm does a large commission and forwarding business, and always with satisfaction to its customers. The gentlemen comprising it are most favorably known, both in their personal and business relations.

The office of the United States Collector of the Revenue has been removed to Hunt's building, on Madison street, where very fine apartments have been secured.

SPIRITUAL.

Judge Fred Tate, of Texas, spoke at this city yesterday.

Captain John T. Shirley returned yesterday from a short trip to Pulaski.

Patrick Hoyt was arrested yesterday for stealing a mule from the stable of Mr. Clay, on Washington street.

It is reported that the Radical organ is likely to change hands.

D. H. Andrews, the well known printer, had his arm broken yesterday, by a fall at the Southwestern Publishing House.

Adam Dowdy was committed yesterday, by Justice Moore, for stealing a trunk from Rose Williams.

The final ball of the season came off at Raleigh last night. It was largely and fashionably attended.

The Sons of Temperance are exceedingly prosperous in and about Memphis. The latest initiation of this is their having purchased a lot in Chelsea, on which to erect a fine temple.

The popular Frank Searcy has just returned from Texas, and brings with him the latest New Orleans and Texas papers, for which we are obliged.

Dave Ryan has mysteriously disappeared, and numerous friends inquire after him. He used to be in the employ of Winfield & Co.

A company of wealthy Pennsylvanians have purchased forty thousand acres of land in Hickman and adjoining counties, and expect to go very largely into the iron business. In furtherance of this project they intend to build a railroad to Clarksville.

Mr. Mitsos, who keeps the old English ale house, is a very quiet, pas eable man, bu' being crowded a little too far, he yesterday gave a man named Costello whipping enough to do him for a long time.

A fellow having a difficulty at Cogwell's stable tried to persuade somebody with a brick, but left off and yelled for mercy when a cowhide was rapidly applied to his shoulders. It is a gratifying sign of progress when half a dozen fights occur in our city in a single day, and yet no deadly weapons be used in any of them.

The great race of the Memphis Boat Club will come off this afternoon. Both boats belong to the club. The Ivanhoe will be propelled by four oars, and the Magnolia by eight. The Memphis Boat Club is a recently formed association, but is composed of young men of the highest respectability, and will become a very popular institution.

A case that shows the depressing effect of electing Brownlow and the Radical ticket, is that of a very handsome piece of property a short distance from Memphis. It comprises a very fine brick residence, and a piece of ground in a high state of cultivation. Eight months ago twenty thousand dollars were offered and refused for it; but on Wednesday it was sold for fourteen thousand dollars. If Radical rule and the prospects of the Indemnity bill causes such depression, what may we expect by and by?

Capt. J. J. Butler, in pulling down the mains for the Gayoso Gas Company, pushes the work on Main street forward energetically. The hands he employs are all picked men, strong, stout fellows of Celtic birth, who can dig and shovel earth more rapidly than any other sort of men. By this evening the pipes will be laid and the excavation filled up from Madison to Adams street. It will be puddled to prevent subsequent sinking of the earth.

About one o'clock yesterday, a couple of those vagrant boys known as mackerels, entered the Bank Saloon, on Madison street, and after getting each a drink, stood about until the bar keeper sat down, when they jumped over the counter, opened the till, and taking from it seventy-eight dollars, ran down Madison street. They were hotly pursued, and threw the money away in an alley and escaped. The other mackerels say that an hour afterwardr the young thieves found the money in the alley where it had been thrown, and carried it off.

The case of a German who settled in West Tennessee nearly four years ago illustrates the fact that nowhere in the world can a man who is disposed to labor at tilling the soil make a living more easily than within a radius of a hundred miles of this city. This German when he came had two hundred dollars, two horses and two colts. He hired a farm for which he paid six hundred dollars a year rent, and the first year cleared seven thousand dollars. The second year he bought the farm that he had previously hired. The price to be paid being ten thousand dollars, and he paying four thousand dollars cash down. The third year he was able to pay the whole of the balance on his place, and wanted to buy that of a neighbor, who refused to sell.

The Industrial Aid Society, started in 1 January by Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Law and other benevolent ladies, deserves a great deal more encouragement and support from people in more comfortable circumstances than it receives. It takes in work from ladies, and then gives it out to deserving working people, for whose sale return of the articles to be made the society is responsible. It has given more or less work to some forty-five deserving persons, mostly widows of Confederate soldiers, but there are far more deserving persons who want work than the society can supply, and therefore, even though times are dull, it is the duty of the charitable to find work for the Aid Society to give out.

A hundred hands have been subscribed for building the projected railroad from Corinth to Hamburg, which last is the highest point of navigation on the Tennessee river. The projector s of the enterprise are sanguine of their ability to get another hundred subscribed, and that will be sufficient to grade the line, which is only eighteen and three quarter miles long. It is believed that the opening of this road will make Corinth one of the most important places in the Southwest. From opposite Hamburg a railroad is projected, and will certainly be built through the Tennessee iron region to Nashville. Another road is to be built from Corinth to Opelika. On this latter road, and forty miles from Corinth, there are inexhaustible supplies of coal and iron.

The Investigating Committee ordered by the Board of County Commissioners, and consisting of Messrs. Buttinghaus, Mills and Williamson, may not have accomplished all that Dr. White's resolutions required, nor traced numerous errors that possibly exist in some departments; but they have, it seems, unearthed some curious errors and omissions made by the Assessors appointed by the County Magistrates. Thus they find that the Memphis Gas Company, while drawing immense amounts of money from the public, has not, so far as is known, ever paid any taxes on its extensive and valuable works, which are all within the city's limits. Half the Adams Block has, it seems, also escaped taxation for an indefinite length of time. Col. Andrew's houses, on Front, between Court and Madison streets, have not been put down on the Assessors' books at all. The Mansfield place, worth seventy-five thousand dollars, has also escaped assessment. Many other first class houses and lots in all parts of the city have escaped taxation altogether for Heaven only knows how long. The Investigating Committee have found already over four hundred and fifty thousand dollars' worth of unassessed real property in Memphis. Probably most of this had already been found by the Tax Collector and inserted in the supplemental book. Under the carrier mode of assessment that has prevailed, officials think that at least eight million dollars' worth of real and personal property in Shelby county has escaped being put down.

A SHOCKING SHOOTING CASE.

Domestic Infidelity the Cause.

There has lived on Gayoso street a colored man named Toney Jones, and his wife, who is a rather good looking negress. For some days Tony has been in the country, where he has been employed. On Wednesday he came to Memphis, in company with another colored man, who had been working with him. Jones took his friend (whose name is Hancock) home with him. When Hancock and Jones' wife met, they found that they were old acquaintance, as she had known him before she married Jones. On Wednesday evening Jones went out to see friends, and left Hancock with the wife. When he returned home he found them in bed together. This so enraged him—as it would most men—that he drew an old fashioned horse pistol, and fired indiscriminately at the bed and its occupants. The pistol was loaded with twelve buck shot. Three of them entered Hancock's head and neck, and four entered his shoulders. Jones then went out, and escaped. It is supposed that he has left the city. Hancock's wounds are likely to prove fatal. He had a pistol in his pocket, but had no time to get one out. Mrs Jones takes the affair quite coolly, and says she don't see why men are such fools as to shoot each other

WHERE TO INSURE.—The immense capital of the European Assurance Society, whose report is published in another column, secures the holders of its policies from loss in almost any possible contingency, and as losses by parties in this city where it insures are promptly paid, without reference to the parent office, it is certainly one of the very best companies in which to insure. Its Memphis agent, Mr. G. W. L. Crook, is an old citizen, a popular gentleman, and a man of strict honor and fairness.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the wharf yesterday was inactive until near evening, when the arrival of several boats caused a little animation and stir.

The Continental arrived from St. Louis at five p.m., en route for New Orleans, with a good trip, including two barges loaded here and St. Louis since Sunday night.

The Henry Adkins, from St. Louis for New Orleans passed down at six p.m. She reports the Henry Ames hard aground at Bellatin bar.

The J. S. McCune cleared for White river last evening with a light trip.

The Adam Jacobs arrived at eight p.m. from St. Louis with a fair trip. She returns to St. Louis to-day at five p.m.

The J. P. Webb, Captain Lancaster, arrived from Evansville yesterday at three p.m., with a cargo of hay, corn and flour She returns to Evansville to-day at twelve m. Captain Charley Irwin, a clever agent, officiates in the office.

Captain Charley Irwin, we are convinced, could build up a splendid trade between here and Evansville with a good side, wheel packet. The people here and in the heads would give him a hearty support. A good packet in the Evansville trade would undoubtedly pay.

The Norman, Captain Scot, arrived from Louisville yesterday. She had for Memphis 100 tons of miscellaneous merchandise. She leaves to-day, at five p.m., for White river. Mr. Towney, a courteous gentleman, presides in the office. Larry Harmstad is her agent.

The Commonwealth, from New Orleans for St. Louis, passed up last night.

The Lady Gay, Captain Bolt, leaves Larry Harmstad's wharf-boat to-day, at five p.m., for New Orleans.

The Rubicon, Captain Blake, leaves Larry Harmstad's wharf-boat at five p.m., for St. Louis. Alf. Grissom is her head cenier.

William Miller, Esq., the liberal and courteous clerk of the Dee Arc, left last evening on the Belle St. Louis, to meet his packet, at St. Louis, which is loading at that point for White river.

Captain Hiner, who has been appointed by the Government to take charge of the United States wrecking boat in White and Arkansas rivers, arrived last evening on the Continental, en route for his field of duties.

Captain John T. Shirley will run the Southerner in the Memphis and New Orleans trade, leaving here every alternate Saturday. She will be placed on the ways at Paducah and receive a general overhauling, and be put in complete order.

The allusion in our columns yesterday to the duty devolving upon the merchants of Memphis, to sustain the boats engaged in trade here, by engaging with them for freights, was so briefly made that we are induced again to allude to the subject. The true merchant neglects no opportunity to add to and sustain, by every intimate rule, the advantages of the place in which he does business. It is of the highest importance that the Memphis merchant should sustain those boats that bring trade here, and enter into no negotiations for their employment that would be inimical to the general interests of the city. We have advocated the establishment of packet lines, that should ply regularly between this city and points above and below. We have urged that, though a dull season, the communication should be maintained uninterrupted, because we felt concerned that the good feeling and general benefit should be preserved. We know that with the recommencement of business those boats that had shown a readiness to accommodate the public, even at some expense, would reap their reward. Packet lines have been almost yearly established here, that ran out of any effort at competition, those that might have become regular traders, and withdraw when there was promise of better things, or business ceased to pay." Such "regular" packets have been sometimes considered "reliable," but how often they have failed in their duty to the public. It is possible that boats may make arrangements to ply regularly, and with apparent interest for the Memphis trade, when in fact they only bring no business to this city, but fill orders for a competing trade beyond. This is something for our business men to inquire into, and they should hold themselves ready at all times to throw their strength into those lines that are known to be identified with Memphis interests, and reciprocating the advantages derived from the confidence reposed in them.

There was, some time since, in this paper, a series of articles urging upon our people the expediency of guarding against a monopoly of the trade of Northern Mississippi. The establishment of packet lines having their terminus here. We must not depend upon promises, without something m re permanent. The Atlantic and Mississippi line starts out with good intentions, but has heretofore given us the go-by, at the most imminent moment of our business. It has been already announced that the Richmond, Indiana and Henry Ames are to be placed in the Memphis and New Orleans trade, to run in connection with the Memphis and Ohio railroad. These are all first class and regular steamers, that do not deviate from their trade. It behooves our business men to give them their confidence, and leave nothing undone to keep them in the trade, that they may not lose by their enterprise.

The Atlantic Line propose to put in a regular line, of which the Olive Branch and W. R. Arthur are already named but the same thing was done last year, and when the wants of our community were most urgent, they were not complied with. This fact should put our people on their guard, and induce them to provide against a heavy combination to draw trade away from this city, which has a natural connection with all business below.

The steamers Lee and Quitman may again become contestants for a fair share of our business—two boats that were of essential service last season, until the sacrifices made to supply the requirements of public accommodation, imperiled the profits of a whole season's business.

Mr. Thomas Stewart, the gentlemanly clerk of the steamer Emma No. 2, died at New Orleans on Tuesday morning, of yellow fever.

The colors of the various steamboats in port at St. Louis were displayed at half mast on Tuesday as a tribute to the memory of Mr. Phil. Monteham, mate, lately murdered on the steamer Minnesota.

The only, or most objectionable clause, to the new bill of lading appears to be the charging of a freight twenty feet from the water's edge constituting a delivery.

The Rowena, Captain Davis, is the regular Saturday White river mail packet. She will be found in port this morning, ready to receive freight, and will leave on Saturday, taking freight for all points on White river and Little Rock.

The Belle St. Louis cleared for St. Louis last evening, with a fair passenger trip. Among the number was Captain H. W. Smith, President of the line, and Mr. E. B. Byington, the General Passenger Agent.

The Adam Jacobs, Captain Hemmingway, is the regular Friday Cairo and St. Louis packet. She leaves at five o'clock p.m.

Captain John T. Shirley and Captain Tapp were in the city yesterday, making arrangements for their packets the Southerner.

The Louisville Courier of yesterday says that the Fire King made an excursion Thursday, and performed very successfully with petroleum for fuel.

The Ezra Porter is due from the Ohio, loaded with corn for New Orleans.

The Vermont Frozen Well.

"Would you like to see the frozen well?" "Yes." So he turns to the left of our intended route, and pulls up a few hundred yards beyond, where a party of men were at work under the direction of Mr. Sawyier, of Boston. He has been sent here by the Boston Society of Natural History, to investigate the history of the frozen well, and which he has not as yet discovered. Some years ago some curious or wise men of Boston raised three hundred dollars and sent Professor Jackson up to solve the mystery. He came one fine day, looked down the well, saw ice in it in midsummer, drank the solid water, looked wise and puzzled, went home and wrote a report that in his opinion an iceburg had been burried there in the drift period. Good and wise—but people laughed about it, and some were so mean as to talk about the price paid. Mr. Sawyier has dug two new wells, each forty or fifty feet from the old well, and finds no ice or unusual appearance. The wells are sunk through coarse gravel and stones. The frozen well is about thirty feet deep. In winter the ice forms over the water eight or ten inches in thickness, and ice remains in the well all summer. Holding a looking glass so as to throw the rays of the sun to the water in the well I saw a rim of ice adhering to the stones at the surface of the water. I drank the water, which is pure and ice cold. If Mr. Sawyier has solved the mystery he did not tell us. It is a very strange and curious thing, and has excited much inquiry, but the "Frozen Well" is still cold and unexplained. Mr. Sawyier is a learned and persevering gentleman, and I hope may be able to throw some light on the subject, but I doubt it.

The following Internal Revenue decision has been made: A person who distils brandy from pure grape juice wine or from pure apple cider, is to be taxed the same, in all respects, as though he distilled it direct from the grapes or apples. The provisions allowing manufacturers to deduct the freight from the place of manufacture to the place of delivery, is repealed by the act of July 13, 1866. No such distinction should be made. Manufacturers who sell their products on time, without interest, should be allowed to return their sales at the present worth of the sum for which they sell.

MONETARY.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
FRIDAY, September 6.

Local finances remain quiet and without change, and will probably continue about the same until cotton commences to come in freely. Business men of all branches of trade anticipate brisk business throughout the season. The reports from the crops are encouraging, and by the 20th instant business will open out with new life. Money continues to rule close, with the rates of interest firm and unchanged.

GOLD—Was firm and scarce, with no local demand. Brokers buy for shipment at 140@140¼. Silver firm and scarce at 130@130.

EXCHANGE—Firm and scarce. Checking rates are ¼ premium on St. Louis; 1@1½ premium on Cincinnati, and ¼@¾ premium on Boston, New York, etc. There are few cotton bills on the market, and all offerings are readily taken at par.

CITY SCRIP—Was inactive, with little inquiry, and prices weak. Brokers were offering at 75@75c, and selling at 76@77c. COUNTY WARRANTS—were dull at 80@80c, with few transactions.

POLICE SCRIP—Was steady; buying at 75c, and selling at 80c.

Tennessee money is scarce and inactive. Dealers bid as follows: For Bank of Tennessee, old issue, 80c; Bank of West Tennessee, 80c; Bank of Chattanooga, 10; Bank of Middle Tennessee, 80c; City Bank, 80c; Mercantile Bank, 80c; Northern Bank, 80c; Ocoee Bank, 80; Planters' Bank, 80c; Union Bank, 80c; Shelby ville Bank, 80c; Southern Bank, 80c; Traders' Bank, 80c; Bank of Knoxville, 42c; Commercial Bank, 80c; Bank of Memphis, par; Bank of the Union, 80c; Hook's Bank, 80c; Life and General Insurance Bank, 10c; Union Bank certificates, 80c; Bank of Commerce, 80c; Bank of Paris, 80c.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
FRIDAY, September 6, 1867.

Trade in the leading markets yesterday presented no new features. Business was generally quiet, and prices steady at previous quotations. The volume of trade, though improving, is still small, and below the expectations of dealers. We notice large receipts of miscellaneous merchandise, such as dry goods and groceries, which imparts to Main and Front streets a cheering business aspect. The reports of the cotton crop are more favorable, and the estimates of the yield increasing. Notwithstanding the drouth and many draw backs, there will be an average crop of cotton and corn throughout the South. The merchants are still confident of a brisk fall trade. The present quietness in the market, however, comes as a surprise, for it could not reasonably be expected that a very heavy business would be done until the first of October, though business in the different branches of trade will commence to improve gradually. The provision market was quiet, but firm with an advance in clear sides. Corn was in fair demand, with improved prices. Groceries firm and steady, with a fair trade doing.

COTTON.—The market ruled quiet, with prices unsettled. Buyers and sellers failed to agree, and in consequence there were but few sales on the market, with a limited demand. A few bales changed hands at 28@28½c for middling, 25@25½c for strict middling, and 24@24½c for low middling. The dispatches reported a firmness in the Liverpool and New York markets, which caused a firmness in the market here, and it closed with prices firm, but not quotably higher.

WEEKLY REPORT OF DRAKE KLEINWORT & COHEN.
LIVERPOOL, August 16, 1867.

COTTON.—The improved feeling which was apparent in our market at the end of last week has since made additional progress, and the sales during the interval reach the large figure of 70,000 bales, of which 10,000 on account of speculators and exporters. The advance of ⅛@¼d from the lowest point touched in the middle of last month has been fully maintained, and the demand, though not quite so active, is more general than of late, and could scarcely be quoted less easy. The highest rate for middling orleans is 13½d, and the lowest is 13d. Fair Dhollerah is 14¼d, and fully good 13¾d. Good fair Bengal is 13¼d, and middling 12¾d. Pernam is 16¾d, and fully good 16¼d. Sales of the week are distributed by trade as follows. Other details are as follows:

They continue to talk in New York in regard to iron ties and bale rope for compressing cotton. It is not much use to talk about it. The cotton will use rather, just which they think is for their benefit. A late New York Evening Post remarks:

"From the Mobile Register—Many of the papers in the cotton states advise the planters and cotton yards to use iron ties instead of the old fashioned rope one. They claim that iron bands have many advantages, such as increased strength, power of endurance, and allowance for much greater compression, speed and facility of adjustment, and neatness of appearance; and the result is, that these iron hoops have been used to a considerable extent in some sections for binding the crop. But the acknowledged advantages of the iron tie are in a great measure counterbalanced by certain disadvantages, and the ropebound cotton is much preferred in Northern markets. It is decided, in fact, in the preference for the old style, and the iron tie is not wanted. Besides, the iron hoops have been used to such an extent that the supply of iron bands is inadequate to the demand, and the ropebound cotton is much the cheaper."

GROVER & BAKER'S

CELEBRATED

ELASTIC STITCH & LOCK STITCH

SEWING MACHINES

Why the Grover & Baker Machine is Best.

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangements than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no rewinding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and heaviest, and with all kinds of thread alike, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though out at every stitch inch, remains firm, and neither ravels nor unravels in wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness and beauty after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper instruction, without picking or cutting them.
9. Watching and placing the tensions on the threads necessary in other machines, is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover & Baker machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery with as little change of apparatus, except, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for the purpose. It is the only machine that is adapted to broiders and sews perfectly.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than

McGILMSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.

It is a labor saving invention as well as an invaluable remedy in scurvy, scald head, eruptions of the skin and piles. Dandruff is removed from the head; the tenth whiteness and softness is imparted, and pimples and scurf entirely removed from carpets, furniture, clothes, paint, varnish or marble with the greatest ease and wholesomeness to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes, as the quality known as soap is not washed away with the case of cotton or linen without falling or shrinking. It has dispensed from all parts of the United States, and is adapted to the skin of the most delicate fabric. It possesses no deleterious qualities whatever. The world is challenged to produce a soap which possesses so many valuable properties, and with the exception of the Magic Soap, M'Mc's home invention, an equal competition in any part of the world. It has been in use in this city in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading throughout the world, and eventually will extend over the Eastern States, North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica. Manufactured solely by C. F. McGILMSEY, Memphis, Tenn., and can soon be found at any respectable family grocery or druggist's. Orders from the country promptly attended to, and we shall keep pace with the rapidly exceeding demand for its use.
